GREAT-BRITAIN'S NOSEGAY:

CONSISTING OF

SOME VERY VALUABLE ORIGINALS

FROM THE

COLLECTION

OF

CHARLES JONES, ESQ.

THE SECOND EDITION,

WITH ADDITIONS AND EMENDATIONS.

Render to Cæsar the Things that are Cæsar's.

Honour to whom Honour is due.

LONDON:

PRINTED FOR THE AUTHOR,

AND SOLD BY J. MILLAN, NEAR WHITEHALL; AND R. DAVIS,

THE CORNER OF SACKVILLE-STREET, PICCADILLY,

MDCCLXVIII.

BRITISH MUSEUM

TO

THE NOBLE, RIGHT HONOURABLE, HONOURABLE, AND VERY WORTHY MEMBERS OF BOTH THE CLUBS AT WHITE'S,

Who are a ſhining Ornament to the following Collection, and to whoſe generous Indulgence, I owe Ten Thouſand Obligations, during the Courſe of many, many Years, I dedicate this Second Edition of a truly BRITISH NOSEGAY; as the moſt grateful Return, I fear, will ever be in my Power to make for all the Favours which They, their Fathers, and ſome of their Grandfathers, have, occaſionally, conferred on their

Moſt obliged,

and moſt dutifully devoted humble Servant,

Charles Jones.

BRITISH

PORTRAITS,

WITH MOTTOS.

---

The KING.

Pater Patriæ.

The Father of his Country.

---

The QUEEN.

Uxorum Optuma.

The Beſt of Wives.

---

The PRINCESS DOWAGER OF WALES.

The Happy Mother of the Beſt of Kings.

The Reſt of the ROYAL FAMILY.

Jam Nova Progenies Cœlo demittitur Alto!
A Blooming Race, from lofty Heaven ſprung.

---

Lord High Chancellor Camden.

Pro Lege, Rege, & Grege.
For the Laws of my Country, King, and People.

---

Earl Gower.

Veſtra Te Virtus vetuit latere.
Talents like Yours could never long be hid.

---

Earl of Northington.

Begone, my Cares! I now can live at Eaſe;
And to my GRANGE retire, whene'er I pleaſe.

---

Earl of Chatham.

Patriæ Dulce Decus.
The Great Ornament of his Country.

Duke of Grafton.

Benè Præparatum Pectus.

Whoſe Breaſt is honeſtly prepared.

---

Duke of Rutland.

Cedo Amantiſſimo——

I give up all my further Pretenſions to my beſt Beloved—

---

— Marquis of Granby.

Militavit non ſine Gloria.

— My Boy has done his Duty.

---

Duke of Portland.

Ab Omnibus Amatus.

Beloved by every one.

---

Earl of Shelburne.

— Uno avulſo, non deficit alter

Aureus—

Though One's remov'd, a Great One ſtill remains.

Lord Viſcount Weymouth.

— Amoto, quæramus Seria, ludo.

Now, unto ſerious Buſineſs let's advance.

---

Earl of Hertford.

Great, Good, and Juſt.

---

The Right Honourable General Conway.

— In utrumque paratus.

Equal to Both, and arm'd for either Field.

---

Lord Beauchamp.

Me Pater Æneas, & Avunculus excitat Hector.

My Father's and my Uncle's Great Examples fire my Soul.

---

The Right Hon. Sir Charles Saunders, K. B.

Sævis Tranquillus in Undis.

Calm and unruffled in the Midſt of Danger.

Duke of Richmond.

Ready, and Steady.

---

Duke of Newcaſtle.

Qualis ab Incepto.

From his Youth up Loyal.

---

Duke and Dutcheſs of Northumberland.

Humani Generis Deliciæ.

The Delight of Mankind.

---

Earl of Briſtol.

Factis, non Verbis.

Judge by my Actions, not my Words.

---

The Hon. Auguſtus Hervey.

BREST, HAVANNA, MORO.

Earl Percy.

Purus ab omni Labe.

From Blemiſh free.

---

Lord Algernoon Percy.

Virtues like Thine, will, one Day, make Thee Great.

---

Lord North.

— Decus, Columenque Rerum.

A noble Pillar of the State.

---

Right Hon. ~~Richard~~ William Dowdeſwell.

Magni Spes altera Regni.

The additional Hopes of a mighty Nation.

---

Duke of Montagu.

Spectemur Agendo.

As you find us favour us.

Marquis of Rockingham.

Integer Vitæ, ſceleriſque Purus.

A Man of Integrity, and unſpotted Virtue.

---

The Devonſhire Family.

Whoſe Sons were ever Loyal, the Daughters Virtuous.

---

Earl of Beſborough.

Omne ſolum Forti Patria.

Every Country is a brave Man's own.

---

Earl of Egmont.

Nervoſè Tuebor.

I will defend my Country with all my Strength.

---

Earl of Bute.

Ubi Lapſus? Quid Feci?

Where is the Slip that I have made? What have I done, to be abuſed as I have been?

Lord Mansfield.

Magiſtratus indicat Virum.

The Behaviour of the Magiſtrate ſhews the Man.

---

Lord Barrington.

Chariſſima Libertas.

The deareſt Bleſſing in this World is Liberty.

---

Earl Temple, and the Right Honourable George Grenville.

Conabimur.

We will exert our Strength.

---

Earl Ligonier.

True to the End.

---

Duke of Bedford.

We have bled for Liberty.

Earl of Waldegrave.

Mea Gloria Fides.

I glory in my Attachment.

---

The Right Hon. Richard Rigby.

— Palma ut depreſſa reſurgit.

And, like Antæus, gathers Strength by Blows.

---

Earl of Upper Oſſory.

Domine me dirige.

God direct me.

---

Richard Vernon, Eſq;

Currite, ut Obtineatis.

So run that you may obtain.

---

Lord Maſham.

— Mens Conſcia recti.

Whoſe Mind is well diſpos'd.

Earl of Thanet.

— Gaudet Equis, Canibuſque —

In manly Hunting takes Delight.

---

Lord Holland.

Happy the Man that's honour'd with his Smiles.

---

The Right Hon. Humphry Morrice.

Innocentia Mille Scuta.

The beſt Defence is Innocence.

---

Earl of Breadalbane.

Virtus vera Nobilitas.

Virtue is real Nobility.

---

Lord Lyttelton.

In Recto Decus.

There is Honour in being Right.

Earl of Hilſborough.

Benè Notus in Orbe.

A Man in great Repute.

---

Earl of Halifax.

Quæ Regio in Terris, noſtri non plena Laboris?

What Country in the World is ignorant of the Pains I have taken.

---

Earl of Sandwich.

— Poſt tot Naufragia Portum.

After many Storms I'm anchor'd ſafe in Port.

---

Lord Tyrawley.

Campis Benè Notus, & Aulis.

In Camps and Courts well known.

---

Earl of Rochford.

Patriæ non immemor Uſquàm.

I am never unmindful of the Intereſt of my Country.

Earl of Cheſterfield.

Barbiton hic Paries habebit.
My Harp unſtrung ſhall here remain.

---

Sir Francis Blake Delaval.

Haud ullum invenies Parem.
Whoſe Equal you'll ſcarce ever find.

---

The Hon. Lady Stanhope.

Fœminis Prælata.
One of the moſt lovely of her Sex.

---

Earl and Counteſs of Mexborough.

May fairly claim the Dunmow Ham.

---

Lady Downing.

A lovely, and moſt deſirable Object.

Earl of Shaftſbury.

Artium Fautor.

A great Encourager of Arts and Sciences.

---

The Right Hon. Arthur Onſlow.

Vitæ Benè Actæ Jucundiſſima Recordatio eſt.

The Review of a well ſpent Life is extremely agreable.

---

The Right Hon. Sir John Cuſt.

Sequor — Nec Aſpera Terrent.

I try to imitate him, though the Taſk is difficult.

---

Lord Viſcount Townſhend.

Tramite Recto.

In the Right Way.

---

Earl Talbot.

Firm as Mount Atlas.

Lord Clive.

— Sitis, Ardor, Arenæ,
Dulcia Virtuti —

The burning Sands, and Dangers of the Eaſt,
Are to the virtuous Brave a princely Feaſt.

---

Lord Pigot, Governor Vanſittart, and General Palke,

Richly deſerve the Fortunes they have made.

---

General Elliſon.

Well done, thou good, and faithful Servant, enter thou into the Joy of thy Lord.

---

Edward Legrand, Eſq;

Britons in you, ſage Mentor view.

---

William Lynch, Eſq;

Amicitiæ Anima.

The Soul of Friendſhip.

Thomas Walter, Eſq;

Jocoſus, & Prudens.

Merry, and Wiſe.

---

Lord Howe.

Quo Fata Vocant.

I am ready to obey the Call of Fate.

---

The Counteſs of Albemarle.

One of the happieſt Mothers in the World.

---

Duke of Bolton.

Anxious for Britain, and his Sov'reign's Good.

---

Duke of Argyll.

Do Thou, great Liberty, inſpire our Souls!

---

Duke of Queenſberry and Dover.

From Honour's Path has never ſwerv'd.

Earl of Lincoln.

— Regis, Patriæque, & Orbis
Fauſtus Amore.

Happy in the Eſteem of his King, his Country, and the World.

---

Earl of Eſſex.

Ubi Libertas, ibi Patria.

The Land of Liberty is my Country.

---

Earl of Thomond.

Stat Per Se.

Stands — on Himſelf alone dependant.

---

Earl of Plymouth.

Whoſe Heart is truly Engliſh.

---

Earl Poulett.

Pro Patriâ ſemper.

England for ever.

Lord Carysfort.

— Probitas laudatur, & alget.

Probity is prais'd, indeed, but ſoon forgot.

---

Earl of Delawarr.

Fide, & Conſtantiâ.

By Loyalty and Conſtancy.

---

John Calvert, Eſq;

— Poſt eſt Occaſio Calva.

Take Time by the Forelock.

---

Hugo Meynell, Eſq;

— Sicut eſt ex Ignibus Aurum.

Like pureſt Gold, that has the Coppel ſtood.

---

The Right Hon. Sir Edward Hawke.

— Vicem gerit Ille Tonantis.

The Thund'ring Deputy of Mighty George.

Lord Viſcount Bolingbroke.

Quantâ laborâſti in Charybdi,
Digne, Puer, meliore Fato!

O noble Youth (deſerving better Fate)
In what rough Seas, haſt thou been toſs'd of late!

---

Lord George Sackville.

Vulneratus, non Victus.

Wounded has been, but not o'ercome.

---

Sir George Savile.

An able, honeſt Yorkſhire Man.

---

Edmund Burke, Eſq;

The Sweets of Hybla dwell upon his Tongue.

---

George Dempſter, Eſq;

— Erectis Auribus adſtant.

Admiring Senates liſten to his Voice.

Sir William Beauchamp Proctor, Bart. K. B.
and George Cooke, Eſq; Happily united.

---

Sir Francis Vincent.
Vincit Amor Patriæ.
His Country's Love prevails.

---

William Varey, Eſq;
A Veritate nunquam variavit.
Has never varied from the Truth.

---

Charles Boone, Eſq;
An honeſt Man's the nobleſt Boon of God.

---

Sir John Gibbons, Bart. K. B. and L L D.
Amicus certus in Re incertâ cernitur.
A Friend in Need's a Friend indeed.

Earl of Warwick.

Præbet Titulis Honorem.

To Titles Luſtre gives.

---

Francis and William Fauquier, Eſquires.

Two worthy Brothers much belov'd.

---

Thomas Dundas, Eſq;

Vultus Animum indicat.

His Looks the Goodneſs of his Mind declare.

---

John Ranby, Eſq; Sergeant Surgeon to His Majeſty.

An Honour to his Profeſſion.

---

Edwyn Stanhope, Eſq; L L D.

Quo non magis amicus.

Than whom more friendly few.

Sir Thomas Dyke Acland, Bart.

Fortunâ beatus, Virtute beatior.

Happy in Fortune, but more bleſt with Virtue.

---

Edwyn Laſcelles, Eſq;

Dulce Decus Patriæ, ſemper amabo Virum.

My Country's Glory I ſhall ever love.

---

Lord Scarſdale.

Happy in his Choice.

---

George Jennings, Eſq;

Fidelis & Conſtans.

Faithful and Conſtant.

---

George James Williams, Eſq;

Amicorum Deliciæ.

His Friends Delight.

Horton James, Eſq;

Jacobus, ſed non Jacobita.

A James, but no Jacobite.

---

The Right Hon. Welbore Ellis.

Dotibus veſtris Patriæ in Salutem
Uteris lætus.

To lend your Aid you never have deny'd.

---

The Hon. General Murray.

Virtus Murus Aheneus.

Virtue is the beſt Defence.

---

Sir William Draper, K. B.

Non cuivis Homini contingit adire Manillam.

Few Men can boaſt, that they Manilla won.

---

Earl of Suffolk.

Principiis Inſpirate Meis.

Direct my Steps at ſetting forth.

William Beckford, Eſq;

Contendiſſe Decorum eſt.

There is Glory in attempting to do Good.

---

Earl of Litchfield.

Spes Almæ Matris.

Oxford's Great Hopes.

---

Earl of Denbigh.

Frangas, non Flectes.

You may break me, but not bend me.

---

Earl of Pomfret.

Determined.

---

The Hon. Charles Yorke.

Ero, quod Spero.

I ſhall be, what I hope to be.

Earl of Marchmont.

Mens ſana in Corpore ſano.

An honeſt Heart in a ſound Body.

---

Lord Bathurſt.

Fuimus.

I have had my Day.

---

Duke of Ancaſter.

Fidelitas Ariete Fortior.

My Fidelity is ſtronger than a Battering Ram.

---

Earl of Dartmouth.

Time trieth Truth.

---

Earl of Cholmondely.

Virtus Tutiſſima Caſſis.

Virtue is the beſt Defence.

Lord Sandys.

Sola Bona, quæ Honeſta.

Thoſe Things are only Good, that are Honeſt.

---

Lord Cadogan.

Meminiſſe Juvat.

It is with Pleaſure I look back on my paſt Life.

---

Earl of Huntingdon.

— Multorum Vidit & Urbes.

He has ſeen the World.

---

Duke of Kingſton.

Veteris Spes Ultima Stirpis.

The only remaining Hopes of an Antient Race.

---

Duke of Mancheſter.

Charus Amicis.

Dear to his Friends.

Earl of Oxford.

Nullâ palleſcere Culpâ.

I will never do, what I ought to be aſhamed of.

---

Lord Ravenſworth.

Ubi Intentio eſt Bona, Actio non Mala.

Where the Intention is Good, the Action can't be Bad.

---

Lord Edgecombe.

Steady, Boys, Steady.

---

Duke and Dutcheſs of Marlborough.

Felices Ter, & Ampliùs, quos irrupta tenet Copula.

More than thrice happy are that Pair, who live together in Unity.

---

Earl Spencer.

Quo non Juſtior Alter.

Than whom, there's none more Juſt.

Earl of Barrymore.

— Amor Omnia vincit.

The greateſt Conqueror is Love.

---

John Offley, Eſq;

Inculpatus.

Unblameable.

---

Lord Villiers.

Ladies, Beware!

---

Earl of Guildford.

Without Guile.

---

Sir Mat. Featherſtonhaugh, Bart. F. R. S.

— Turpi ſecernit Honeſtum.

Diſtinguiſhes properly.

Joſeph Salvadore, and Napthali Franks, Eſquires.

Have many Virtues, that would adorn a Chriſtian.

---

Sir Charles Bunbury, Bart.

Semper Amabilem ſperat.

A lovely Object is his ſole Delight.

---

Lord Sondes.

Culpæ non Affinis Ulli.

Addicted to no Sort of Vice.

---

Lord Gage, and the Right Hon. John Shelly.

True to their Country, Truſt, and Friends.

---

Earl of Aſhburnham.

Virtutis Amicus.

A Friend to Virtue.

Earl Verney, and Lord Romney.

Juſtly beloved, when known.

---

Lord Mount-Stuart.

The Brave deſerve the Fair.

---

Duke of Buccleugh.

Ingenui Vultus — Ingenuique Pudoris.

A promiſing Countenance, with a becoming Diffidence.

---

Earl of Holderneſſe.

Peregrinis Magnus in Aulis.

In Foreign Courts Renown'd.

---

Earl of Pembroke.

Spes durat Avorum.

The Hope of my Anceſtors ſtill lives.

Earl Harcourt.

Tempus Adeſt.

The Time is come.

---

Earl Fitzwilliam.

Young, yet Firm.

---

Earl of Buckinghamſhire.

Non Obliviſcor.

I am not forgetful.

---

Earl of Orford.

Cor Bonum.

An Honeſt Heart.

---

Lord Botetourt.

Fixt as Fate.

Lord Le Deſpenſer.

Templa Novo Decorare Saxo.

Rais'd New Temples to his God.

---

Duke of Leinſter.

Intaminatis Fulget Honoribus.

With unſullied Titles ſhines.

---

Earl of Harrington.

Spirat adhuc Amor.

As much in Love as ever.

---

Lord Viſcount Clare.

— Till I ſhake the Senate.

---

Earl of Coventry.

J'ai bon Gout.

Duke of Beaufort.

Juvenum Spectatiſſimus.

The Flower of Youth.

---

Lord Maynard.

Propoſiti Tenax.

Unmoveable.

---

Lord Falmouth.

Quod Vult, Valdè Vult.

What He does, He does to ſome Purpoſe.

---

George Pitt, Eſq;

Haud diſpar Nomini.

Worthy of the Name.

---

Count Haſlang.

England is become my Home.

George Selwyn, Eſq;

Ridentem dicere Verum
Quid Vetat?

Many a true Word is ſpoke in Jeſt.

---

Lord Groſvenor.

One of the beſt of Brothers.

---

Earl of March, and Ruglin.

Elegant.

---

Earl of Eglington.

Has Muſic in his Soul.

---

Count Bruhl.

The Choiceſt Saxon Fruit,
Ingrafted on a Noble Britiſh Stock.

---

The Hon. Sir William Stanhope.

I have loſt a Jewel.

Edward Delaval, Eſq; F. R. S.

An Adept.

---

Thomas Delaval, Eſq;

An Honour to the Profeſſion of a Merchant.

---

Doctor Addington.

Medicorum Primus.

A Phyſician of the Firſt Rate.

---

Mr. Gataker, Surgeon to His Majeſty's Houſhold.

— Celeberrimus Arte Medendi.

For healing Wounds renown'd.

---

General Moſtyn.

Virtus in Actione conſiſtit.

Courage alone's in Action ſhown.

Baron Wenzel.

Wenzel, to whom all gracious Heaven
A Sight-reſtoring Skill has given;
Great Bedford's Cure ſhall place thy Name
The foremoſt in the Liſt of Fame.

---

Lucy Knightley, Eſq;

Comitatûs Sui Decus.

An Ornament to his Country.

---

Sir Charles Kemys Tynte.

Non Immemor Beneficii.

I do not forget Favours.

---

Robert Thompſon, Eſq;

Happy in his Acquaintance.

---

Richard Willis, Eſq;

Tempora mutantur, ſed non mutatur in illis.

The Times are chang'd, but not ſo Mr. Willis.

The Hon. Horace Walpole.

A thorough Judge of Men.

---

The Hon. Thomas Hervey.

Is this the Lovely, Gallant, Gay Lothario?

---

John Wilkes, Eſq;

Periculoſæ plenum Opus Aleæ tractavit.

Has played with edged Tools.

---

Simon Fanſhawe, Eſq;

Fari quæ Sentiat.

Generally ſpeaks his Mind.

---

Lord Beaulieu.

Feci Factum, cum Honore.

With Honour I've my Fortune made.

Lord Ducie, and Francis Reynolds, Eſq;

Pylades and Oreſtes.

---

Duke of Bridgewater, Sir James Lowther, and Sir Walter Blackett.

Navigation, ---- and the Coal Trade.

---

Sir Jeffery Amherſt.

Stella Pectus decorat Honeſtum.

His honeſt Breaſt a Star adorns.

---

Lord Cathcart and General Honeywood.

Carry their Wounds before.

---

General Harvey.

Vultu Miles.

His Countenance denotes a Soldier.

Sir John Huſſey Delaval, and T. Wood, Eſq; of Littleton, L L D. and F. R. S.

The beſt of Huſbands, and of Fathers.

---

Lord Boſton.

My Integrity's my Boaſt.

---

Lord Viſcount Courtenay, Lord Montfort, Sir John St. Aubin, Sir James Long, and James Scawen, Eſq;

Little Men have Noble Souls.

---

Sir William Briton.

A True One.

---

The Right Hon. George Onſlow.

In Him his venerable Father lives.

---

Sir George Bridges Rodney.

Will pepper their Flat-bottom Boats.

Sir Stephen Theodore Janſſen, Bart.

His faithful Services are known.

---

Sir John Fielding.

Hated by none but Villains.

---

David Garrick, Eſq;

The Roſcius of the Age.

---

Archbiſhop of Canterbury.

O, pray for the Peace of Jeruſalem; they ſhall proſper that love thee: and let all the People ſay, Amen.

THE END.

BRITISH
10 JA 91
MUSEUM

THE COMPILER's APOLOGY.

IF, in the foregoing Catalogue, I have ſaid any Thing that can poſſibly be wreſted into an ill-natured Conſtruction, I intreat it may not be imputed to any wilful Deſign of mine; as I have ſtrenuouſly endeavoured to ſteer clear of thoſe dangerous Rocks, Ingratitude and Scandal.

Should I in this Collection have been guilty of any Omiſſion, I hope it will be placed to the Account of the Paralytic Stroke I received three Years ſince, which has much impaired my Memory.

Three and forty Years ago, I became infected with that dangerous Diſtemper, the Ludendi Cacoëthes, a Malady for which there is but one Cure; for, as Muſic is the only Relief for the Bite of a Tarantula; ſo a firm, and unalterable Reſolution, is the only Specific for the Cure of the Itch of Gaming. Old Lady Fortune, indeed, at firſt, favoured my Folly with her Smiles; but, alas! ſhe ſoon forſook me; and I have been plagued (ſome lucid Intervals excepted) with MIS-FORTUNE ever ſince.

It is recorded of the famous Sir William D'Avenant, that, after loſing his Noſe in Campo V-----s, a ſtale, prudiſh Aunt of his, gave him a Jobation, for ſtill purſuing his filthy Ways:

He

He heard her patiently for ſome Time; but ſtarting up abruptly, ſaid, "My dear, grave Aunt, do you imagine I can "poſſibly leave off a Loſer?"

Horace gives excellent Advice, where he ſays,

Nec Luſiſſe pudet, ſed non Incidere Ludum.

Some of my Intimates, perhaps, may ſay, — "Hey-day! "Mr. Ap Shenkin, have you been lately bit by a Methodiſt "Teacher, and commenced Preacher? Prithee, Charles, "don't you imagine that thoſe who really know you, will be "apt to ſay, you are going to verify the old Proverb, about "the ſick Devil's turning Fryar, &c.?" Let them laugh at the Conceit, if they pleaſe; but I ſolemnly declare, that I ſhould think myſelf bleſt indeed, could I now, in the ſixty-fourth Year of my Age, be enabled to ſay,— Inveni Requiem, Fallax Fortuna, Valeto!

BRITISH 10 JA 91 MUSEUM